

We have assembled some information to help you learn about and teach your students about TeleMiracle. We invite you to use the following presentation to launch your school's TeleMiracle activities during a school assembly or just in your own classroom.

Our website (<https://telemiracle.com>) contains more information about TeleMiracle and how people can get involved; as well as, information about the Kinsmen Foundation, who distributes the money raised, and the Kin Clubs that are the backbone of the foundation and its telethon. There is also the TeleMiracle YouTube channel with hours of content that you can view with your students.

On the website, you will also find material that you can download and use in your classroom such as, word finds, crossword puzzles, colouring pages, and a donation-tracking thermometer; as well as, resource documents to help you integrate TeleMiracle into your curriculum.

What do you know about TeleMiracle?

TeleMiracle is a 20-hour live telethon, put on by Kinsmen and Kinettes from all over the province of Saskatchewan, to benefit the Kinsmen Foundation. People from all over the world donate money to TeleMiracle, so the Kinsmen Foundation can continue "Helping People Every Day", with the medical equipment or travel assistance to access the medical treatment that they need.

Did you know Saskatchewan residents have been ringing those phones since 1977? That means that for some children, TeleMiracle is a family tradition that started with their grandparents!

For many people, this is their favorite event each year. Is there something you like best about TeleMiracle? Is it staying up late with your family to watch all the great talent? Have you auditioned for TeleMiracle? Do you remember seeing Helping Hands cover the walls at businesses all over town/city? Do you know someone in your community or family that has been helped by the funds raised at the telethon?

Let's look at a video of how raising money can help people just like you, who enjoy doing things other families do, like going to hockey games together, going shopping or even just going for a ride in their van.

Did you know that TeleMiracle is one of the highest raising telethons per capita in the world? That is impressive, especially for a small province like ours, and all residents of Saskatchewan should be very proud of this accomplishment. The money raised at TeleMiracle will stay right here to help people in our own province.

When we work together, we can change the world, one person or one family at a time. The people who work in the Kinsmen Foundation office know first-hand how the money raised here in our school helps change the world of a family in need.

We are going to try and change the world. We will be a part of changing someone's life for the better, just like in the video.
